DOING NICELY.

General Grant has a Comfortable Night.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

Mr. McGraw, July 2.—"Notwithstanding the apprehensions that General Grant would pass a restless night last night he rested and slept fully seven hours," said Col. Fred Grant this morning. "Father was sleeping when I left the cottage just now, and I know he slept well until after four o'clock."

Dr. Douglas this morning remarked that when the general awoke last night to take food or have his throat treated he did so with a clear mind. There seemed to be no drowsiness in waking intervals and he fell asleep again with readiness. The night was a very good one despite the mental work of yesterday. The morning is bright and clear though chilly after the past four days of wet weather.

At 11 o'clock General Grant expressed himself as feeling better able to work than at any time since he came here. His writing materials were brought and he commenced writing again in the line of his work. The day has been too chilly for the patient to go out of doors.

Barnett, editor of the Herald, who is a gentleman of fine attainments, and one who worked nobly for his ticket at the last election. He said he will enlarge his paper and make it a morning daily.

Nearly all of the people will settle in the rural districts of Utah; some will stop in Salt Lake, and a very few will go to Mexico.

No Cars and the Situation is Quiet.

Mayor Harrison Guarantees Protection,
but the Newspapers Fear Riot and Bloodshed.

THE CHICAGO STRIKE.

The Situation Quiet but Extreme.

By Serious.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The west division street railway company has made no attempt, since the serious encounter on Madison street yesterday afternoon, to run out any cars. Mayor Harrison declared his willingness to give the company police protection provided it was prepared to put cars in operation, but he did not believe in keeping the entire police force on duty to oversee the running of two or three cars. The newspapers are beginning to look at the situation as one of serious import, and the Times this morning intimates that the hesitancy of the "municipal" Mayor in 1871 provoked the serious riots of that year, and warns Mayor Harrison that any hesitancy in preserving peace at this time may result in a similar outcome.

THE LATEST.

Up to 2:30 o'clock the Street Car company made no effort to move cars and the situation remains unchanged. Several employees of the company, who attempted to approach the car barns this afternoon were chased away by the crowd. Beyond this no violence is reported.

THE STRIKE AT CLEVELAND.

CLEVELAND, July 2.—The men employed in the wire department of Cleveland rolling mills joined the other strikers this morning and there are now 1800 idle men in Newburgh. The officers of the mills have telephoned for police protection, but no violence is feared.

OTHER LABOR TROUBLES.

CLEVELAND, July 1.—Last night notices of a general reduction were posted in the iron mills at Newburgh, signed by General Manager Chisholm, of the Cleveland Rolling Mill company. The notice stated that the reduction would go into effect to-day. It is understood that 10 per cent. is the amount of the reduction. During the night the men expressed much indignation and after consultation the looth mill employee gave notice at 4 o'clock that unless the reduction was declared void, they would strike. No arrangements could be made at that early hour and after working the last "charges" all the men left the mill. Their course proved incentive to the employees of the nail, new rod, hoop, puddle, bar, guide, blooming and butt mills, and the Siemens-Martin steel works were shut down and the workmen departed in a body. The only departments which continued in operation were the Bessemer steel works and the Wire and Brick Rod mill. Later the boiler makers struck. Manager Chisholm had a consultation with the brakemen at 8 a. m., and promised to restore the drop in their wages. They have returned to work at 9:30 a. m. The Bessemer steel works men decided to follow suit and the workmen shut down. Fully five hundred men were idle at this time. The rail mill men were told about 10 o'clock if they would return to work their wages would not be reduced, their success was received by cheers from men still out. The boiler makers, who also received notice of a reduction, struck about 3 o'clock. With the exception of the rail and blooming mills, no concessions were made and all other departments of the mills closed.

CLEVELAND, July 1.—An approximate statement of the number of men out on the iron mills strike and the wages they received is as follows: Rail mill, 70 men, $1.20 to $2.50 per day; two rod mills, 50 men, $1.40 to $3 per day; guide mill, 14 men, $1. to $2.75 per day; puddle mill, 26 men, $1.40 to $3.50 per day; hoop mill, 30 men, $1.75 to $3 per day; Bessemer steel works, 160 men. It is predicted to-night that 1,500 in the wire mills will quit to-morrow. None of the men who struck in 1882 are employed at Newburgh now and no labor organization of any kind exists. This is the third cut made within the year. The first was 17 per cent., the second 20 per cent. and this one 10 per cent.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Mrs. Lucille Yonell Dudley was denied the privilege of a transfer to England, to an asylum, but was ordered sent to the Middlesex insane asylum.

Telephone Matters.

By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 1.—The telephone war is growing hot. The last legislature passed a law placing the rental of instruments at $1 per month. The telephone company recently sent out circulars to subscribers proposing to charge $3 a month for the instrument and $2 additional for the wires, exchange service, etc., making it the same as heretofore paid, $5 per month. A meeting of subscribers was held today, which decided to appoint a committee to manage their interests and insist on the legal rate of $3 per month. A representative of the telephone company made a proposition to continue the service at the old rate for $3 per month and agreeing to refund the extra $2 a month in case the courts should declare the law unconstitutional.

SEEKING SCALPS.

The Ute Indians on the War Path
By Telegraph to THE SENTINEL.

DENVER, July 2.—Governor Eaton has received a telegram from a ranchman living near Durango, saying that the settlements on the Manzana and Dolores are threatened by the Ute Indians and the people are very much alarmed. Some of them are moving their families out for greater safety and others, who are unable to move, are sleeping out in the sage brush for fear their houses will be burned and their families murdered. The citizens are not sufficiently armed, neither have they ammunition.

CALLED OUT.

Thirty-five Workmen Quit the Wabash Shops this Morning at the Bidding of the Knights of Labor.

The threatened action of the local lodge of the Knights of Labor was realized this morning, when the executive officers of the Wabash Labor assembly ordered all craftsmen to quit work. Thirty-five artisans abandoned their benches and walked out. Forty or fifty remain and the departments are running at half mast. The union men say that to-morrow one-half of that number will not report for duty. The strikers do not now demand wages, but insist that the Knights of Labor, especially its leaders, be given employment in preference to non-union men. The company claims that involves the management of the road and are not yet ready to turn it over to the Knights of Labor, neither will they dismiss old and faithful employees, who have served the company for probably fifteen or twenty years, at the bidding of men known to the management but a year or two. If there is not sufficient force to operate the shops they will be closed.

The trainmen will not join the strikers. They have no grievance. None of their men have been dismissed and all come in for a share of their earnings on the line.

At Andrews last night the strikers assaulted and almost killed an engineer, who had to be carried home on a stretcher.

Master Mechanic Morris came here from Andrews this morning. The strikers complained they have not been paid for services since April 27, and are sore over the hospital assessment scheme.

These oft recurring strikes are unfortunate and blighting to every interest.

Next Monday Miss Elsie James, of Indianapolis, will appear here with the Female Base Ball club, if her papa doesn't put his arm on her shapely shoulder. Elsie is a comely maid, of good family and luxuriant surroundings, but all these transitory favors could not ease her cravings to toss the sphere. Accordingly she fled from her Indianapolis home night before last to join the girl ball trossers. Her papa is after her with a detective and the law with a pretty face, petite form and bangs of a golden hue, will have to lay mighty low if she desires to be seen here. The female club was at Kokomo yesterday. They rest to-day to be measured for new suits. To-morrow they play at Wabash, Saturday at Warsaw and Monday here, then going into Ohio.

Sudden Death of Mr. Isaac Fisher.

Mr. Fisher was advanced in years and for a long time successfully conducted a meat market on Griffith street, near his home. He was an honored citizen and his host of friends esteemed him highly. His family is mostly grown and his sons are conducting a fine business on East Berry street. The remains of the deceased will arrive here this evening and the date of the funeral will be announced later.

This is the second raid on Mr. Muhler's house and he will arrange a reception committee hereafter.

Departed.

Some days ago THE SENTINEL noted the revelation to a little band of spiritualists that the fact that a fabulous treasure was hidden in the earth, near the house formerly occupied by the late Squire Debois, at the corner of East Lewis and Lafayette streets. The revelation came from the squire's spirit, through Mrs. David E. Whiting, of No. 238 West Washington street. Only five people sat at the seance where the information was given and then and there did the adherents of the belief, pledge themselves to not divulge the secret till the matter was investigated. They wanted to maneuver modestly and proceeding to the premises to rent the house they discovered the spot, indicated by the dead squire, thoroughly uprooted and their prize gone. The excavation showed the print of a box and when Mr. L. O. Hall and others searched the loose earth about the hole, a valuable German coin was exposed and likewise a lock evidently used to seal the iron box that held the old squire's treasure. Lem Bagby was THE SENTINEL informant and the article called to this office a number of adherents of the mysterious belief, among them Daniel McInnis, of No. 21 Pritchard street. Mr. McInnis is quite an intelligent young fellow, well posted in the spiritualistic phenomena and from him a captivating tale was coaxed. Some years ago his wife, a bright and lovely woman, discovered she had power to commune with the spirit land, and her attendants were the famous Indian spirits, "Sky" and "White Plume." She developed as an impressionistic or writing medium and communications from the world of the dead were first conveyed by strange rappings, and finally her arm involuntarily replied on paper to the silent or expressed interrogatories of the circle from friendly spirits. She yields herself completely to the influence, and her hand moves without her bidding to report the glad, or, may be, sad news from fabled shores. Among those who witnessed the midnight seances and clairvoyant mysteries was Mrs. David E. Whiting. Soon her powers were discovered, and electric sparks flashed from the tips of her fingers. At the succeeding seance she was cast into a deep trance. While in that rigid and apparently lifeless state the spirit of Squire Debois, a judge and Sam McDonald, the executed murderer, conversed from her lips. McDonald was in extreme agony and could scarcely give his name at first, but after repeated efforts he made it plain, adding "My lot is a hard one, but I see a dim light in the future." Mrs. Whiting is a phenomenal success in the calling and has five guiding spirits of the highest degree known. She has been a resident of the city but a few years and knows not the people who converse through her nor the nature of their message until awakened from her death-like slumber when the talk is repeated to her.

Mr. J. A. Walters, wife of the Berry street boot and shoe man, also manifested the powers of a medium and her physical manifestations and table rappings have often entertained the circle in silent hours when ghosts alone stalk about.

"How do you bring about these conditions?" asked the newspaper man who could already experience strange phenomena playing tag up and down his spinal column.

"We put a table in the middle of the room," said Mr. McInnis, "then we turn the lights low and gather about the cover; a chilling current permeates the party and instantly the medium is the property of the spirit world and the ghosts, of not alone Fort Wayne people, speak to the assembly. The spirits are situated in spheres, and according to their purity ascend in degrees from one to seven. Ignorant, immoral and selfish spirits are in the first sphere and are not capable of much manifestation, but people who did in this world as their conscience or capabilities allowed are promoted accordingly up to the fifth sphere, higher than which we cannot go."

"What state are they in the other world?" again wedged in the reporter.

"They are in a free state," said the spiritualist, "and they have guides and awful tasks or punishments imposed on them. They are at liberty to accept them and go higher or refuse them and go down to hell, I might say. In communicating with spirits the medium experiences the same same feeling that animated the spirit's body at the moment of death. If the spirit died in convulsions, the medium is affected as violently. If the spirit died in a choking, suffocating way, the medium is likewise overcome, and so on through the catalog."

"Do the departed espouse any creed or acknowledge a God?"

"They acknowledge a supreme cause," he continued, "and believe the human kind will finally merge into one creed, meaning universal friendship and right-consciousness."

"Has the cause many adherents here?"

"No. Fort Wayne is neglected, but Mr. N. P. Stockbridge has done much to develop the faith, and already we have four circles. It is a fact that out in every eight people have the powers of a medium and although formerly they imprisoned and even hung people for our belief, here we can worship as we like and whenever we like."

Mr. McInnis will arrange seances with his wife and Mrs. Whiting next week for the inspection of THE SENTINEL believer, who will then give a pen picture of the communion with familiar bob goblins, who enable these women to not only hear messages from the dead, but move tables about the room, stifle the senses and otherwise transform life into a dream.

A. TOMLINSON.

The use of Iodoform or mercurials in the treatment of catarrh—whether in the form of suppositories or ointments—should be avoided, as they are both injurious and dangerous. Iodoform is easily detected by its offensive odor. The only reliable catarrh remedy on the market to-day is Ely's Cream Balm, being free from all poisonous drugs. It has cured thousands of chronic and acute cases, where all other remedies have failed. A part is applied into each nostril; no pain; agreeable to me. Price fifty cents; of druggists.
